

Investment Objective

The US Stars Equity fund seeks to generate long term capital growth by investing in a concentrated portfolio of American companies with enduring competitive advantages and a long runway of growth.

We select companies based on our own fundamental research, taking a long-term investment horizon. We do not follow benchmarks and always invest in quality.

Quality for a company means strong competitive positions, operating in good and growing industries, the financial strength to weather adversity and strong management teams with track records of value creation.

We seek to identify undervalued quality growth companies where the scale or persistence of growth is underappreciated by the market and there is the prospect of significant capital growth.

Portfolio Comment

Our US Stars portfolio had a strong year up 24% in 2024.

The fund fell but by less than the market in December, as the market was digesting the initial post-election President Trump victory trades as well as the Fed Reserve announcing an interest rate cut of -25bps but with an outlook that was perceived to be more hawkish towards 2025 and future rate cuts.

In December, the best performer was Alphabet (+12%). The company announced new Quantum Computing products as well as expanding Waymo, its self-driving cars business, into more cities across America. This innovation outside of the core search advertising and AI, helped reinforce the technological leadership sentiment at Alphabet.

Other strong performers included Amazon (+6%) with expectations that it had another strong holiday shopping season.

Adobe (-14%) was one of the negative performers, as it offered a more conservative outlook for 2025 after its quarterly results and this was taken negatively by the market.

There was some portfolio activity during the month as we reduced exposure to some of the technology companies that have had strong performance over the last couple of years and reinforced some of the laggards in the portfolio that we believe are well positioned to perform in 2025.
